While Shopping Around...

Shopping to find the most suitable merchant service provider for your business can be a challenging task. To assist you through the process and help you make an educated decision, below is a quick reference guide detailing what to look for and what to avoid when shopping for a merchant account.

1) Try to avoid merchant accounts that have any of the following:

- ✗ Application Fees
- ✗ Account Set-Up Fees
- ✗ Programming Fees
- ✗ Annual Fees
- ✗ Early Termination/Cancellation Fees
- ✗ Undisclosed/Hidden Fees
- ✗ Applications with Cross-Outs / Blank Fields
- ✗ A Contract

2) Some common mistakes to avoid:

- ✗ FOCUSING SOLELY ON RATES: Don't assume that because you're getting a low rate, you're getting the best deal. Although it is easy to be attracted to low rates, they are always a signal that other fees or contract terms are being bumped up somewhere else. Many times, these are simply "introductory" rates which change after a short period. Always consider every potential fee you could be charged and thoroughly read through your contract so you know what to expect.
- ✗ TRUSTING A VERBAL QUOTE: A verbal or informal quote doesn't necessarily reflect your true costs or final contract terms. To ensure you get what was promised to you, always request a fully disclosed schedule of fees and read through the entire agreement. Be sure you understand everything stated, and ask questions if anything is unclear.

At Merchant Warehouse, we are committed to ensuring your satisfaction and make every effort to earn and retain your business. We do this by offering:

- ✓ The Guaranteed Lowest Overall Costs on Processing Services
- ✓ No Contracts, Annual or Termination Fees
- ✓ No Application, Setup or Programming Fees
- ✓ Accurate and Detailed Quote with Full Disclosure of All Potential Fees
- ✓ Free Analysis and Honest Review of Competitive Quotes or Offers
- ✓ One-on-One Guidance Throughout the Setup Process
- ✓ Helpful, Dependable, and Accessible Customer & Technical Support
